

City G. O. P. Delegates Designate Incumbents

Heiselman, Schwenk, Cahill Are Selected by City Convention Held Last Evening
Elting Honored

Convention Observes Period of Silence for Dead Leader

The same unanimity and absence of any trace of discord that marked the Republican county convention Saturday was in evidence at the court house Monday night, when Republican delegates from the wards of the city met to recommend candidates for city offices, to be voted for at the fall primaries.

Candidates recommended were Conrad Heiselman, for mayor; John Schwenk for alderman-at-large and Matthew V. Cahill for city judge. All are incumbents in the offices for which they were designated.

As at Saturday's gathering the proceedings were marked by frequent references to the late county Republican leader, Philip Elting, and once more it seemed to be felt that a proper respect to his many years could best be expressed by action that denoted harmony and a desire to continue the work that he had carried.

Secretary John B. Sterley called the convention to order at 8:10 and presided during the evening. Mrs. Mary Otto was elected secretary for the convention. The roll call disclosed no contests and was accepted as read.

At the suggestion of Senator Arthur H. Wicks the convention stood and observed a period of silence out of respect to Mr. Elting.

Nominates Mayor
On the call for nominations for mayor, Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin was recognized and placed in nomination the name of Mayor Conrad Heiselman to succeed himself.

Mr. Cashin prefaced his remarks with a tribute to Mr. Elting. "Your leader, my leader; your friend, my friend; the friend of all mankind," he had found Mr. Elting always on the side of "righteousness, fairness, honesty and decency in every channel of activity." Mr. Elting, he said, was the greatest monument that they could build to his memory was to work for the organization and party he built up; to keep it in the place it has and should have. To this end he urged whole-hearted support of the prospective new leader, Roscoe V. Elsworth.

Following the applause that greeted the presentation of the name of Mayor Heiselman, Mr. Cashin read an extract from the remarks made by Mr. Elting in 1935, when he placed Mr. Heiselman's name in nomination and when he said that the latter had shown himself to be "faithful, efficient, honest and capable," and declared that he had made "one of the best mayors the city had ever had," and that he felt that the service he had rendered "entitled him to the support of the residents of the city."

"I spoke to Mr. Elting a few days before he left the Benedictine Hospital the last time, for his home," said Mr. Cashin, "and he reiterated those sentiments."

Speaking of some of the things Mayor Heiselman has accomplished during his service in office, Mr. Cashin said that although since January, 1934, bonds had been issued to the amount of $1,563,000 to keep idle men at work and assist in home relief, in addition to thousands of dollars placed in the budget for welfare work, the funded debt of the city on December 31, 1940, showed an increase but $391,000.

Mentioned as outstanding accomplishments of the administration were the city laboratory, the municipal stadium, parks and playgrounds second to none in any city of like size with Kingston.

Seconds Nomination

Herbert E. Thomas seconded the nomination of Mayor Heiselman and said that in his business about the city and talks with the people he had found that these accomplishments were appreciated. He said, "Since the playgrounds had reached their present high state of efficiency not a child had been arraigned in children's court." Thomas stressed the conditions of the streets, the advancement of the Broadway crossing to a stage that was nearing actual construction work and the honest effort that had been and was being made to secure new industries for the city. Sam Stone also seconded the nomination of Mayor Heiselman.

There were no further nominations and Mr. Heiselman was nominated unanimously. Mrs. Otto voting the ballot for the convention.

The mayor was escorted to the platform by Anthony J. Alecca of the Fifth Ward and Abraham Ginsberg of the Seventh Ward. Thanking the convention for again honoring him with the nomination, Mayor Heiselman said:

"When, first I accepted the nomination for mayor, I pledged to give to the people of Kingston the best that was in me for sound,

City Convention Held Over Until Tomorrow Evening at Ulster Court House

More than 200 members of the Ulster county Democratic party, delegates and those who attended in the interest of hearing designations, met at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium last evening for the annual unofficial political convention, presided over by Bernard Culleton, county Democratic leader, recently appointed deputy tax commissioner in the State Motor Vehicle Bureau.

At the session, candidates were recommended for county offices and four resolutions were passed and spread on the minutes of the meeting, complimenting the President, governor and representatives in Congress for their conduct of public affairs.

The candidates nominated were: Sheriff, Theron Lasher of Woodstock.

Public Welfare Officer, Mrs. Mary O'Connor of Rosendale.

Coroner, Fred Coulter of New Paltz.

The city convention for the selection of candidates for the offices of mayor, alderman-at-large and city judge was postponed until Wednesday night. This convention will be held at the Ulster county Court House.

The postponement of the city convention, it was stated in official circles, was due to inability of the leaders to secure a candidate for mayor. It was rumored that the Democrats might endorse Mayor Heiselman and concentrate their campaign for the two other city offices and the supervisors and aldermen.

In opening last night's convention Judge Culleton welcomed the gathering and said "you are here as representatives of the enrolled voters of the city."

Hijacker Reported By Needes Driver

Local Man Reports Theft of Merchandise on Way to Local Merchants

Local police headquarters was called upon today to investigate and aid in spreading the alarm of a reported hijacking early this morning between this city and Lodi, N. J., in which an assortment of goods was taken from a truck of Needes Express, Inc., of 25 South Manor avenue, this city.

Vernon Avery of Elmendorf street, driver of the truck, reported the loss when he arrived back into the city early this morning and local police headquarters was notified.

The driver said he had left the city last evening at about 7:30 o'clock and arrived at Lodi at about 11:30 p. m. He left Lodi for Kingston at about 12:50 a. m., he said, and on his way made only two stops; one at Moor's Diner at 1:40 a. m. where he remained until about 1:45 a. m. The other stop was for a traffic light at Newburgh for about a minute. The time he gave for his arrival in the city was 4:45 a. m. at which

Mrs. O'Connor Is Honored by Party, Removed by Town

Democrats Pick Rosendale Welfare Official at Same Time Town Board Votes Her Out

At about the same hour she was being designated as the Democratic choice for county commissioner of welfare at the convention of her party in Kingston, Mrs. Mary L. O'Connor, welfare officer of the township of Rosendale, was voted out of office at a lively session of the town board there last night.

"Is this supposed to be a charge of malfeasance in office?" asked Mrs. O'Connor as Arthur Aldridge, Republican member of the board moved that Mrs. O'Connor be discharged.

Mr. Aldridge charged in effect that one member of the board said he would get rooms for a certain family, if it were agreed that a certain storekeeper would get the relief order for that family.

Mrs. O'Connor had contrived to make such arrangements with this member of the board, George McEvoy, Mr. Aldridge indicated, but both Mrs. O'Connor and Mr. McEvoy denied the charges.

Denies 'Cooked Up' Deal

"There was no deal cooked up with any member of this board," Mrs. O'Connor shouted as the charge was made, "and now that I am charged with malfeasance in office I'd like to know what action you are taking on the charges made against the superintendent of highways and what he has on you that you're all afraid of him."

A check of $196 handed to Supervisor John J. Mooney by Town Highway Superintendent Al Trandle was passed around for inspection of the other members of the board. This check was to make up for what were charged as discrepancies of the highway accounts for which Mr. Trandle holds he was not directly responsible.

Charges Made by State

The charges against the highway superintendent came from the state auditing department and were in effect that Mr. Trandle had received money for work done by town-owned equipment and that this money had not been turned in to the town funds.

Members of the town board in answering Mrs. O'Connor's charges said that such charges were an outgrowth of the term of 1938 and 1939 and that it was therefore not up to present members of the town board to take action.

"Albany gave its report to your board," Mrs. O'Connor said.

Mrs. O'Connor in explaining her side of what was described as "an arrangement with one of the members of the board," explained: "I had a family of 10 to take care of. The man died and I had to move them three times before I found one to house them. He was a man on the Tillson road, William Deyo. He said he would rent them his house if I would switch their food order from Morris DeWitt to Dimick Christians in Tillson. I asked him 'how about

Assistance Plan Might Cause Japan to Show Resistance

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—The United States backed Russia against Nazi Germany today with a formal pledge of "all economic assistance practicable"—an undertaking that may bring fresh complications in relations with Japan. The assistance would be in military supplies and implements of defense, even though the Japanese controlled press in recent weeks has been printing veiled warnings against the routing of such shipments across the Pacific to the Russian Siberian port of Vladivostok.

Indications that such a route would be used were seen in the state department's announcement that "favorable consideration" was being given Russian requests for the extension of available American shipping facilities to expedite the shipments.

(The neutrality act combat zone blocks off Soviet European ports to American shipping.)

The formal undertaking to supply economic aid was set forth last night in an exchange of diplomatic notes, connected with the renewal of the annual Russo-American trade agreement.

Three-Way Help

In its note the United States disclosed for the first time it already was implementing earlier informal promises of assistance by Giving urgent Soviet orders "priority assistance . . . upon the principles applicable to the orders or countries struggling against aggression."

Granting unlimited licenses for the export of a wide variety of supplies needed "for the strengthening of the defense" of Russia; and

Exploring the possibility of using American ships to transport some of the supplies.

Constantine Oumansky, the Russian ambassador, told reporters that the understanding was "of serious importance because it extends to the Soviet union in full your fixed policy of giving all assistance to countries struggling against aggression."

Russia Can Pay

Officials emphasized that there was no question of lease-lend aid, because Russia was able to pay for its purchases here. The nature of the Soviet purchases here has been withheld on the ground that it would constitute military information. Similarly, there was no official word on whether the flow of material had started.

The possibility of using American ships on the Vladivostok run raised speculation in some diplomatic quarters whether some of the lease-lend aid to China might be carried along with Russian cargoes for delivery to Chungking over the caravan route from Siberia.

It was pointed out that if Japan makes her threatened move into Thailand, the Burma road supply line will be further exposed to air attacks. The road is now within raiding range of Japanese Indochina bases.

Japanese concern over the question of American assistance to the Soviet via the Trans-Siberian Railroad was expressed only three days ago by the Tokyo paper Nichi Nichi, which stated that the transportation of war supplies across the Pacific to Vladivostok would not leave Japan indifferent.

Jurors Shy Away From Duty in Case Of Louis Buchalter

Special Panel of 250 Gives Variety of Reasons for Wishing to Be Strictly Neutral

New York, Aug. 5 (AP)—Because of a situation which County Judge Franklin Taylor said was unprecedented—the unwillingness of veniremen to serve as jurors—the trial of Louis Lepke Buchalter and three co-defendants on murder charges today was recessed until September 15.

Judge Taylor directed that all veniremen return to court on that day and at the same time reserved decision on all pending applications for excuses by those asked to sit in judgment on the Brooklyn hoodlums.

"This peculiar situation is unprecedented," he said. "It is practically a runout (by the jury). The reason for it may be a reluctance to give protracted service during the hottest month of the year."

New York, Aug. 5 (AP)—Prospective jurors are shying from duty at the murder trial of Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, federal prisoner, former No. 1 industrial racketeer of the nation and for two years the most sought fugitive in North America.

A special jury panel of 250 was called into Judge Franklin Taylor's Brooklyn court yesterday to hear the case against Buchalter and three co-defendants; 26 didn't appear, and 129 others offered a variety of reasons to be excused from service.

One man said he was to be married next week, others said they were needed in defense industries and still others pleaded the need for summer vacations or even the affliction of hay fever.

Judge Taylor denied 16 requests, granted 18, and deferred decision in the others. The entire session was given over to hearing the pleas of talesmen.

Charged with participation in the murder of Joseph Rosen, a Brooklyn storekeeper, in 1936, to prevent him from testifying in a flour trucking racket case, Buchalter sat without emotion through the long court day.

Not once did he grin as he did when he pleaded guilty to a narrow

Elting's Will Is Filed for Probate

Testament in Late Leader's Own Handwriting Cites No Public Bequests

The will of Philip Elting, former Collector of the Port of New York, president of the Kingston Trust Co., and for many years chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Ulster county, was admitted to probate in Ulster County Surrogate's Court on Monday.

The will is in Mr. Elting's own handwriting, is dated January 4, 1932 and is witnessed by John T. Cahill and Edward J. Hillis.

To his secretary, Gertrude E. Brink, the testator bequeaths the sum of $5,000.

To his sister, Mary Elting Williams of Highland, he devises his one-half interest in the Elting homestead property at Highland and he also gives to Mrs. Williams the sum of $20,000.

The entire remainder of the estate he gives to his wife, Katharine R. Elting, whom he appoints as sole executor.

The value of the estate is not disclosed, the petition for probate merely setting forth the statements that the value of real property is more than $5,000 and that the value of personal property is more than $10,000.

Former Surrogate George F. Kaufman is attorney for the executrix.

Japanese Paper Asserts Thailand Is Under Merciless Pressure Applied by United States and Britain

(By The Associated Press)
United States warships have arrived in Australia on a "training cruise," the navy department announced today, even as tension in the Orient heightened over the reported massing of Japanese troops at Russia's back door and the continuance of Japanese pressure on little Thailand.

Without reference to the Far East crisis, the navy said the U. S. heavy cruisers Northampton and Salt Lake City had arrived at Brisbane "for refueling and several days recreation" for the ship's crews on a cruise to the south Pacific ocean.

Reports from Bangkok, Thailand, said Thai officials would not deny that Japan was applying pressure for the granting of certain demands and that Thailand was facing a momentous decision in her relations with Japan, Britain and the United States.

London reports have said the Japanese were demanding air bases in Thailand, within 400 miles striking distance of Britain's great citadel of Singapore.

The Japanese newspaper Kokumin, by contrast, asserted that Thailand was "under merciless pressure" by the United States and Britain.

A Japanese army spokesman admitted today that Japanese and Russian troops had clashed near the Manchoukuo-Siberia frontier, while authoritative quarters in London reported that Japan had "substantially" reinforced her Manchoukuo garrison of a quarter million men.

Dalens Is Swarming

Dispatches from Shanghai said the Yellow Sea port of Dalen, point of entry to Manchoukuo, was swarming with Japanese troops, horses and artillery, and that large quantities of munitions and other supplies were constantly moving through the streets.

Foreigners reaching Shanghai said they took it for granted the Japanese forces and equipment were to be moved into Manchoukuo to reinforce garrisons along the Siberian frontier.

With Washington-Tokyo relations increasingly tense, all Japanese ships had left U. S. Pacific coast ports today and reports from the Far East indicated that no more vessels flying the flag of the rising sun would be seen in American ports for some time.

Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye's government announced a doubling of present war-risk rates in marine insurance, effective August 8, because of increasing dangers to shipping.

In Washington, Secretary of State Cordell Hull said yesterday that immediate consideration would be given to the problems of removal of Americans from the Orient. More than 600 United States citizens were stranded in Japan alone when the Tokyo government suddenly cancelled the departure of Japanese vessels for the United States.

Lieut. Col. Kunio Akiyama, official spokesman for the Japanese forces in China, deprecated the clash between Japanese and Russian troops, asserting that neither government had protested the incident and that there had been frequent unimportant skirmishes along the frontier in recent years.

Both sides, he said, had minimized them by tacit agreement.

Akiyama said the brush occurred about two weeks ago near Manchuli, just inside western Manchoukuo, when Soviet troops crossed the frontier and exchanged shots with the Japanese. One Japanese was wounded, he said, while Soviet casualties were unknown.

Forced to Change Plans
The amazing resistance of the Russians, however, forced Hitler to change his plans of operations. After the first onslaught it became quite apparent that it would avail him little to capture territory while the Bolshevik fighting forces remained in being. Thus there has developed one of the bloodiest combats of history.

Hilarious Youngsters Outshine Fifth Column in Maneuvers Held at Albany

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP)—The first battalion of the New York Guard's first regiment, equipped with rifles, shotguns and pistols—all unloaded—marched by companies into Washington Park.

The dignified khaki-clads' objective was a pavilion, theoretically held by fifth columnists armed with ammunition stolen from the army depot at nearby Schenectady.

Major Arthur H. Morris ordered the advance and soldiers squirmed over cross-cropped lawns from tree to tree.

But they were far from invisible to any enemy, however imaginary—each group of troops being accompanied by a noisy cordon of enthusiastic, uninvited youngsters who hadn't learned to fear troops or rifles.

"Watch out for those guns" and "get away from here" barked the soldiers.

"G'wan, shoot the enemy" and "who's winnin'" retorted the noisy children.

Soldiers in front of the pavilion waved red flags and shot firecrackers to the children's added joy—to put the invaders under fire. White flags indicated a halt in shooting.

Two city policemen sought to shoo the crowd, but the children stuck closely to the troops. After all, having accompanied them into the park, they weren't to be dissuaded so easily.

Finally, the command exercise ended as guardsmen waded through the youngsters to surround the pavilion.

An unofficial, verbal communique issued as the soldiers dispersed late last night termed the drill successful though "seriously hampered by the non-combatants."

German News Agency Says 6,000 Russian Prisoners Captured in Ukraine

Reds Resist
London Tells of Red Resistance Around Smolensk

(By The Associated Press)
German panzer forces have driven a new 70-mile-deep salient into the heart of the Soviet defense system between Moscow and Leningrad, the Russians acknowledged today, and Berlin reported that the 45-day-old conflict now had developed into two vast battles of annihilation.

While the Germans reported a great slaughter of trapped Red armies, the Communist party newspaper Pravda declared that "day by day our counter-attacks are becoming all the stronger and wider in scope."

Pravda said Hitler launched his invasion with gigantic forces, including 30 tank divisions totalling 15,000 tanks, 10,000 first line warplanes, and 170 divisions—two or three times the forces originally available to the Red army, the newspaper said.

Nazi military dispatches said the encirclement and destruction of large Red army forces south of Kiev, the Ukrainian capital, was well under way and indicated that a clean-up in the bloody Smolensk sector, 230 miles west of Moscow was in its final stages.

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters reported that Red army units attempting to smash their way out of a trap in the Ukraine had been "annihilated."

The communique also declared that in "a widening break through the region 100 kilometers (60 miles) southeast of Smolensk, a new enemy power group was partly annihilated and partly destroyed."

On the Russo-German war front, DNB, the official German news agency, reported that 6,000 Russian prisoners were captured in the Ukraine, along with 50 cannon and 368 trucks.

Nazis Are Near Kholm

The new German thrust knifed to the vicinity of Kholm, in the marshlands 70 miles east of last week's battlefield at Novorzhev, a Red army bulletin admitted. Kholm lies 180 miles south of Leningrad and 250 miles northwest of Moscow.

Authoritative quarters in London asserted that fierce Soviet resistance had compelled the Germans to abandon frontal attacks in the Smolensk sector and to direct their fury in drives south of Leningrad and on the grain-rich fields of the Ukraine.

Nazi reports from the front indicated the Germans might be planning to by-pass Kiev and drive on to the Russian industrial center of Dnepropetrovsk, 185 miles southeast of Kiev on the Dnieper river. Dnepropetrovsk is the site of heavy armament works and the center of huge coal, iron and manganese producing region.

A Soviet communique again spoke of heavy all-night fighting in the Bel Tserkov sector, 50 miles south of Kiev; in the Korosten sector, 80 miles northwest of Kiev; and in the Smolensk sector.

The United States, meanwhile, cast the weight of "all economic assistance practicable" in support of Russia's life-and-death struggle against the Nazis.

The assistance pledged by the United States would be in military supplies and implements of defense on a cash rather than a lend-lease basis. Russia has the money to pay.

Russian Ambassador Constantine Oumansky was informed last night at Washington that the United States also was exploring the possibility of using American ships to transport some of the supplies.

Such supplies would go by way of the Siberian port of Vladivostok. Japan, however, has hinted broadly she might not look with favor on any war supply shipping to that port.

Moscow had its 12th air attack last night but reported only a few raiders broke through and dropped incendiaries.

60th Anniversary Of His Ordination

Dr. C. B. Smith, Formerly of Wurts Street Baptist, Receives Greetings

A notable occasion was the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. Charles B. Smith of Vernon, N. Y., pastor emeritus of the Wurts Street Baptist Church, Kingston, observed at the First Baptist Church, Herkimer, on July 27.

There were greetings from the pastors of churches in which Mr. Smith formerly served, from old friends and parishioners and from President Roosevelt and Governor Lehman. The President wrote:

"Permit me to join with others of your friends and admirers in extending hearty congratulations on the happy occasion of the 60th anniversary of your ordination to the sacred ministry."

"I am sure this noteworthy milestone will awaken joyful memories of your service in the Master's vineyard. I trust that for long years to come you may be spared in health and strength to continue your devoted labors."

Greetings from the Rev. and Mrs. John Wright, of the Wurts street Baptist Church and heartiest good wishes from the Kingston church were extended in person by Attorney Floyd W. Powell of Kingston. Mr. Powell was chairman of the 50th ordination observance held at the church here 10 years ago.

Mr. Powell paid the following tribute to Dr. Smith:

"For eight years Dr. Smith was the faithful pastor of the Wurts Street Baptist Church and was a real shepherd of his flock. No one was too old, no one too poor and no one too difficult or too involved in trouble to receive the benefit of his Christian ministrations. He loved us all. He rejoiced with those who rejoiced and wept with those who mourned. He watched with us and prayed with us in our Gethsemane and many were led by him from the darkened valleys of worry, discouragement and despair to God's hills of hope and promise."

"While pastor of our church, Dr. Smith was, and still is, known as a praying clergyman, believing from the very depth of his great soul in the efficacy of prayer."

"No higher tribute can be paid to any clergyman, or to any man, than to have it said of him that he lives in such closeness to his Maker that when he prays God surely will hear him."

"Truly consecrated, learned, tolerant, sympathetic, a splendid preacher and possessing a captivating personality, Dr. Smith had the qualifications for and was an ideal pastor."

Satisfaction
Terre Haute, Ind.—Mrs. Howard Clare was irked when she shot a six on the par-three No. 10 hole at Terre Haute Country Club in a tournament.

She finished the round and went back, vowing, "I'll master this hole!"

Her first practice shot on the 160-yard hole was an ace.

Blanket Rumors
Camp Davis, N. C.—When a quartermaster officer started distributing woolen comforters to troops under a 96-degree sun, the rumors began.

The boys started writing the folks telling them they were off to Iceland—at the closest.

Harried officers were besieged with questions, and camp phones started ringing. The blankets were withdrawn.

Medford, Ore.—Forest Lookout George Fleischman couldn't reach the rattlesnake under his shed with a rake.

So he baited a trap with cheese. This caught a mouse.

Then he baited a fish hook with mouse.

The snake rose to the lure and Fleischman reeled it in.

What a joy must flood his soul as he looks back over that long stretch of years and views the good that he has done—a great good that cannot be measured by human standards, but will be found inscribed in the imperishable records of heaven.

"O, may God in His infinite wisdom never destroy or spare the use of the mould with which men like Dr. Smith are made."

Assessing Property

County Treasurer Chester A. Lyons, City Treasurer George W. Moore and Albert Cashdollar, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, are among those attending a meeting being held at Hancock Central School today at 1:30 p. m. The meeting, which is in connection with the assessing of property of the N. Y. O. & W. Railway Co., has been called by District Judge Murray Hulbert. The Judge will present to the executive and assessing officials of the taxing districts a plan for meeting the situation.

The O. & W. is under reorganization and Frederic E. Lyford, who as trustee of the road has operated it since July, 1937, has stated that the resources of the road are not sufficient to meet expenses, exclusive of taxes.

There are large arrearsages of taxes in the counties concerned and several attempts hitherto to solve the question satisfactorily have been unsuccessful. One of the later propositions submitted was to reduce assessed valuations to a point where taxes could be paid from operating revenues.

A New York filling station attendant glances at his watch as he fills a motorist's gas tank just as the government-request curfew goes into effect for voluntary cessation of gas sales from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m., as the sign in the right foreground indicates. Uncouth Table Manners
Spoil Good Impression

Frequent Error at Buffet Party

A moment ago other guests at the buffet party were calling her "that lovely new girl." But what an impression she's making now—holding her plate near her face, gripping her fork like a spear!

Such poor manners have socially blacklisted many "lovely girls" with smart hostesses and their guests.

At a buffet supper, you hold your plate on your lap or only a little above it. Your fork is always held near its end—with the prongs up.

As for using the fork, here are a few do's and don'ts that are easy to remember.

Do eat aspics, vegetables and fruit salads with a fork—no knife, of course, except for hearts of lettuce, endive, and romaine salads. Do bring your forkful of food directly to your mouth. Don't hold it in mid-air while you converse, or spear bread with it, or pack food on it with a knife!

Don't let ANY eating problem embarrass you—know how to remove pits from your mouth, where to hold the water goblet, when to eat cake with your fingers!

Our 32-page booklet tells what's correct at dinners, buffet parties, teas, restaurants, clubs. Describes what silver to use for every course, how to eat unusual foods. Explains correct table setting.

Send 10 cents in coin for your copy of GOOD TABLE MANNERS to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

The Matter With Father
Hopkinsville, Ky. (AP)—The Red cross war relief sewing campaign here struck a bottleneck. A woman appeared at the chapter office and apologized for the delay in finishing diapers on which she had been assigned. "My husband has had so many to do lately," she explained. To surprised Red Cross workers, she added that her husband had been doing all the work.

Cotton and Tails
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it wrong for the men in the wedding party to wear white ties and tails when the bridesmaids and bride are wearing cotton organdy dresses?

Answer: Organdy is quite all right as a material, if they look picturesque, not if they are shirtwaist dresses (which organdy could hardly be). In a large place it would be better for the men to wear white dinner coats with black tuxedo trousers and of course black ties, (not maroon, or pink, or green, or any other color tie!) and at a wedding, please, white boutonnieres and not maroon carnations.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have worked in this house as the couple in charge of everything for five years. The daughter is being married and we wonder whether we should give her a wedding present. Or, putting it more correctly, should we ask whether we may give her a present?

Answer: Certainly, you may, but there is no obligation to do so unless you are very fond of her and really want to. At least, that is

Over Silk Cargo

San Francisco, Aug. 5 (AP)—All Japanese ships had gotten out of U. S. Pacific coast ports today and reports from Tokyo indicated no more ships flying the rising sun flag would be seen in American ports for some time.

The last ship to leave for home was the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Heian Maru, which sailed from Seattle late yesterday. Nearly 12 hours earlier, the $15,000,000 liner Tatuta Maru sailed from San Francisco.

Both ships unloaded their raw silk cargoes.

Reports of severance of direct Japanese steamship service between Japan and the United States came after scheduled departure of several vessels from Japan was postponed indefinitely. No immediate apprehension was expressed, however, for about 600 United States citizens still in Japan. Should they wish to leave it seemed likely they could board Japanese ships for Shanghai and there connect with American vessels.

(Secretary of State Hull indicated at a press conference in Washington yesterday that immediate consideration would be given to the problem of evacuating Americans from the Far East.)

Suppose YOU were a Dictator

Would you let newspapers call you names and expose your misdeeds? Hardly! You wouldn't be a dictator very long if you did.

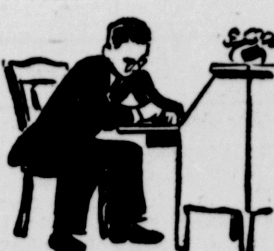

Suppose, being a dictator, you wanted people to give up butter and do without corn flakes. Would you let merchants and manufacturers advertise those things at attractive prices? You wouldn't be a dictator very long if you did.

So, you see, newspapers, free to bring you all the news, are dictator-killers.

WITHOUT THE FACTS the whole people might easily go along with a dictator. With the facts—and the right to govern ourselves and the right to choose what we want to buy, we manage, in America, to keep DICTATORSHIP so far away it can't get a start.

The important thing is to PRESERVE YOUR RIGHT to all the facts.

A letter from those of you who share our views will hearten us. A letter from those of you who disagree will chasten us. And newspapers, if they are to serve you well, need both the heartening and the chastening of an alert readership. Address the publisher of this newspaper.

Germans Making Supreme Effort in Russian Campaign

The Russians intend to pursue hasn't been disclosed as yet by the Sphinx of Moscow. That is to say, we don't know whether Stalin is figuring on employing all his resources in holding his present line at all costs, or whether he may intend to make strategic withdrawals.

There can be little doubt that he has large fresh reserves at his disposal unless he has just thrown them into the battle line. It would not be surprising if he is holding a big force in readiness with the idea of using it at the right moment for a heavy counter-offensive after the Hitlerites have fully extended themselves in this latest phase of the conflict.

War Is Not Over

In any event, I don't think we need to jump to the conclusion that the Russo-German war is over and the Bolsheviks crushed even if there is a retirement of Red forces, unless an obvious rout develops. In this connection it is significant that Berlin admits the Russians in the center of the line might be able to organize other defenses in front of Moscow if the present front is broken.

As this column has pointed out before, it would be most surprising if the Muscovites haven't fully provided for all contingencies involved in withdrawals, since they have been preparing for this war for years. Their chief problem if they do have to withdraw, will be to do so in an orderly manner.

Come what may, Herr Hitler has maybe eight weeks left in which to solve the mystery of the steps. After that it's going to be a long, cold winter.

The articles reported missing according to a police notice were: four cartons of shoes, two cartons of drygoods, a wooden carton addressed to Mr. Tromper, two cartons of drygoods meant for Marlborough and a carton of cream cheese addressed to the Mohican Co. of this city.

The driver believes according to the local police that the articles might have been taken from the truck either while he was driving up the mile-long hill at Hillburn or at some other point along the road where he was driving slowly.

No estimate could be obtained from the office of Needles Express, Inc., of the total value of the articles taken, but it was indicated that the loss was not considered a heavy one.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Saturday evening the Ulster-Greene Council held its closing honor council fire at Camp Half-moon, Spruett which brought to a close the 1941 season. This was the most successful season in the history of the Council with 126 different boys staying 250 weeks at camp. It was the first season on a new campsite which had to be built in less than a month and which the scouts and parents alike voted an ideal spot.

The camp staff and other volunteer help set up camp and did a fine service to the council and the Scouts by so doing. The camp was inspected by the state health department and passed with an A rating. James Killough, deputy regional Scout executive made a visit and commended the staff on the fine work that was being done and suggested improvements which may be made during the coming years. He stated that the site was as good as any council had and that it was fortunate in having it given to them. One item which was recorded in the camp directors' report is worthy of note there wasn't a single case of sickness which required a doctor's care.

The Scouts were checked twice a week by Dr. H. W. Keator who attended any minor cuts, burns, or bruises. The highlights of the season were the hikes which were taken over state trails in the section. Scouts went three times to Hunter Mountain Fire Tower, twice to Westkill Mountain and once to Devil Tombstone campsite. Along with this were shorter day and afternoon hikes. The awards at the final campfire were presented by Second Class Scoutmaster David Cunningham, First Class by Scoutmaster Clifford Van Valkenburgh, Start rank by Charles Davis, chairman of the Council Organization Committee, Life rank by George B. Matthews, chairman of Kingston District, Eagle rank by Executive Burns.

Eagle Palms by Scoutmaster Arthur Hilliard and Merit Badges and Camp Emblems by Howard Mosher, camp director. There were 70 scouts and over 100 parents in attendance at the camp fire. Defense Fair to Be Held in New York City

New York, Aug. 5 (AP)—A "Defense Fair," the biggest public exposition since the World's Fair, will open in New York next month, designed to give the citizen an intimate glimpse of his country's drive for military preparedness.

Plans for the fair, to be conducted from September 20 through October 18, have been announced by George A. Sloan, commissioner of commerce of New York city.

The fair will occupy all four floors of Grand Central Palace—a floor space of more than four acres. It will be aimed at educating the public as to the nation's defense needs, and giving manufacturers an opportunity to demonstrate how they are cooperating with the defense program.

Two-thirds of the exhibits, Sloan says, will be provided by the government and the other third by the defense industries.

Saugerties Agog Over False Report Of By-Pass Work

Taking of Core Borings on Sites Along Proposed West-Side By-Pass Caused Rumors

Saugerties was stirred by rumors this morning that construction on the proposed new state highway by-passing that village on the west was actually under way. The rumors had their basis in the fact that men from the State Highway Department were engaged in the vicinity of Ulster avenue.

D. V. Z. Bogert of New Paltz, department engineer for Ulster county, said that the men observed were taking core borings on sites of possible structures along the proposed west side by-pass route. He said that the work being done and surveys being made were for the purpose of securing more information regarding the route, but that no construction work was being undertaken and probably would not be for a year at least.

According to Mr. Bogert's information the proposition to by-pass Saugerties on the west, instead of on the east, is favored by the State Highway Department and practically has been decided upon, so far at least as present plans are concerned.

The west-side by-pass will leave 9-AW near the Vosdick farm, about half a mile south of Simon's Corners. It will turn west and pass under Ulster avenue near the Tissue Co. plant, approaching the West Shore near the Canoe Hill road and passing through the westerly part of the cemetery.

The route endorsed about a year ago by the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce would by-pass the village on the east, with a bridge over the lower Esopus creek.

Committees Named

Ross K. Osterhout of Stone Ridge, John A. Martin of Saugerties and Harry Wezenaar of Highland were named as a committee to fill vacancies at the Democratic convention in the municipal auditorium last night.

The committee on credentials and resolutions was composed of Abraham Rothkopf of Ellenville, Louis D. LeFevre of New Paltz, Mary O'Connor of Rosendale, George J. Mutari of Saugerties, Albert Roberts of Highland, Andrew Gilday and John McCordie of Kingston.

Annual County Fair Comes Soon

One-Day Outing to Be Held at Park August 20

A glance at the calendar shows that the annual Ulster county event which each year attracts thousands of visitors from all parts of the county—and from outside the county, for that matter—is but little more than two weeks away.

Reference is made to the annual Ulster County Fair and Farmers Field Day, which will be held again at Forsyth Park. The outing, for such it has become in large measure, will be held on Wednesday, August 20 and, given favorable weather, even larger crowds than last year are expected to make their way to spend the day in the attractive grove and grounds at the park on Lucas avenue.

As usual there will be the long list of entries of products of the farms, fields and home of the people of this county, to whom entries are restricted. The days when exhibitors who made a business of traveling from one county fair to another could come in and crowd out local exhibitors with their car loads of "ringers" in the shape of poultry and other entries have been past for some time now. As a result these present day fairs are much more representative of the work the people of the county actually are doing, the poultry and live stock they are raising and the advancement really made from year to year.

Then, too, the present method furnishes an incentive for the local people to exhibit. They may feel that they are competing in a spirit of friendly rivalry, with others situated in like circumstances and conditions with themselves and not being compelled to stack up against people who make a business of exhibiting stock articles, picked up here and there, for what there may be in it.

At the Farm Bureau office today it was stated that indications are that there is increased interest in the horse department this year and that a better than usual lot of saddle horses and draft horses will be shown.

The Granges of Ulster county are expected to be on hand—all but one of them had an exhibit at the park last year—with their individual exhibits. These Grange booths are always of interest as representing the different ideas that the various local committees have as to just how a booth ought to be decorated and how the exhibits they contain should be arranged. The competition is keen among the local Granges and the members do a lot of hard work getting exhibits in readiness and putting them into position on the morning of the fair. There will be the usual large exhibit by the Home Department, entries covering about everything in the field of homemaking. There will be canned goods, baked goods, examples of homemade and remodeled furniture, quilts, rugs, clothing, needlework, and many other articles.

The photography exhibit also will cover a wide range, with pictures submitted of about every phase of life.

The fair committee has been considering the entertainment question, and while for some years past the "skin games" and the like that featured county fairs in days of old have been banned, an attempt will be made to provide some entertainment other than that to be found in viewing the exhibits, participating in the games and visiting with old friends. Those who purpose to exhibit in the homemaking department at the coming fair should bear in mind that, unless otherwise specified in the premium book, entry blanks and fees must be at the Home Bureau office, 280 Wall street, by noon on August 14.

Vacation Vox Pop

Each summer the travel bureaus throughout the country run a series of all expenses paid, personally conducted tours. One of the finest obtainable this year is a guided tour to Alaska. Mrs. Grace E. Donohue and daughter, Patricia, of 209 Washington avenue took advantage of this route leaving Kingston, July 4.

They joined the tour party, a group of 41 in all, at Chicago and left that city, July 5. They traveled by streamline trains in air-conditioned Pullmans to St. Paul, then across the Dakotas through wheat fields into Canada at Port.

From there to the coast were all the wonders of the mountain scenery and air.

A stop was made at Banff Springs, northwest headquarters of the Royal Mounted Police. All kinds of sports can be enjoyed from swimming in the sulphur basin to playing golf on a course a mile high above sea level. From the springs the tourists motored still higher in the mountains to Lake Louise to spend the night at the Chateau. There were seen the lake and the rock gardens with snow capped peaks for background. The next day a trip was taken through what is known as the "Fifty Switzerlands" because of the peaks' Alpine type of beauty.

At Vancouver they boarded a steamer and sailed up the "Inside Passage" to Alaska. No matter how stormy the weather, the sea is never rough because it is so sheltered. Patricia found shuffle board and the other deck games a source of amusement and there were always excellent orchestras on the boat.

The first stop was made at Alert Bay, the home of the Totem Poles. These poles are painted with brilliant colors and always contain some fantastic figures of thunder birds and bears, depicting the gods of the ancient Indian people. Each one tells a story of some family or tribe and they are used in the cemetery instead of the familiar stone monuments.

The totem pole novelty industry has grown to quite a proportion at Alert Bay.

Another stop was made at Prince Rupert, the hub of the fishing industry, where the travelers saw salmon taken from the catch and prepared in cans in 1 hour and 40 minutes. At Ketchikan they saw 400,000 lbs. of fish stored at 60 degrees below zero. All the canning companies buy their fish at these canneries.

Between Wrangell and Juneau time was taken to inspect the Taku glacier which stretches back from the shore as far as one can see. The boat went as close to it as possible. Mrs. Donohue said she thought glaciers were like huge cakes of solid ice but she found it was formed of honeycomb ice colored with all the shades of blue and delicate pink shot through with chocolate sprinkles. As the boat approached, a loud blast was blown on the whistle and the vibrations caused chunks of the glacier to go crashing into the water.

Getting Acquainted
At Skagway, the visitors really began to get acquainted with Alaska and under the guided tour of Martin Itjen, heard many a tale of Klondike gold rush days of 1898. Mr. Itjen has built a street car of his own which he uses to carry the passengers on his tours. He is also the undertaker at Skagway and prides himself in keeping the population down to 500 people. He takes them to the museum containing in addition to souvenirs of gold rush days, the wax figures of many of the Klondike characters such as Soapy Smith and Dan McGrew.

On this tour, Mr. Itjen took the party to the cemetery where were found the graves of Klondike men. The only markers were slabs of wood painted white with black inscriptions. Mrs. Donohue found one inscription of a Mr. and Mrs. Hutton whose ages at the time of death were 25 and 19 respectively. Upon inquiry she was told that the couple had started from Skagway on a canoe wedding trip. A short distance from the village they were met by a band of enraged Indians who had been mistreated by some white men. They took revenge on the couple. This happened in 1898. Illustrating the unfairness of the white men, the story is told that trade for a gun was a pile of furs as high as the gun itself.

An optional trip was taken from Skagway over the "trail of '98" into the Yukon territory. At Lake Bennett Station a unique menu listing caribou meat and fried pies was offered. The caribou meat is much the same as venison and the fried pies are nothing more than turnovers containing fruit of blackberries, cherries or strawberries.

At Carcross, a river packet boat was boarded for a full day's cruise to Ben-My-Chree, (Girl of My Dreams), a wonder spot of flower gardens and the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson. Here were seen the huge varieties of garden flowers including poppies, pansies, gladioli and all kinds of vegetables. Behind the garden and stage rise the snow capped mountains. Rhubarb wine and honey cakes are served to all visitors at the cottage. The Nelsons stay at Ben-My-Chree eight months of the year during which time Mr. Nelson rises at 3 a. m. each day to work in the gardens and Mrs. Nelson preserves a great many of the vegetables.

The visitors were quite amazed at the amount of home canned food which they found and also at the wise sayings that were hanging on the walls of the living room.

This is the farthestest point of the trip and steps had to be retraced in most places. More stories of gold rush days were heard and glimpses of gold mining at Juneau were seen. Back down through the "Inside Passage" this time to Seattle sailed the tourists, then boarding a train, they arrived in Chicago, July 21.

At various points on the trip moose, which travel alone, herds of caribou and buffalo were seen. On board the boat, the passengers caught glimpses of whales from time to time. The sun only sets three hours during the whole day and at midnight there is still a twilight glow. The weather is somewhat cooler than in this section of the country but the greatest fault is the rains which come at least once a day. The party who stopped at the Baronoff Hotel whose Bubble Room is as famous in Alaska as Radio City's Rainbow Room is here. There is a duty on imports so all purchases must be kept within reason. Bargains may be found in the woollens, fur and Dalton China if one is able to judge the values.

For those who wish to travel and take a cruise on their vacation this year, Mrs. Donohue would suggest that they take a trip to the United States' possession of Alaska. The water route is quite safe from raiders and in addition the scenery cannot be surpassed. Her favorite spots were Banff Springs, Lake Louise and Ben-My-Chree.

Chree. Then to be free of all worry and bothersome details of travel, Mrs. Donohue prefers to travel as a member of a guided tour. The entire trip takes only 17 days from Chicago to Chicago.

New York City Produce Market

New York, Aug. 5 (AP)—The stock market today failed to shake off the blanket of indecision under which it has been struggling for more than a week.

While fractional gains were tacked on an assortment of leaders, declines were plentiful from the start. The direction remained vague near the final hour. Except for a brief pickup in selling activity after mid-day, dealings were relatively slow. Transfers were at the rate of about 650,000 shares.

Stocks favored included Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Texas Corp., Standard Oil (N. J.), Montgomery Ward, North American, Southern Pacific, U. S. Rubber, Kennecott and Allied Chemical.

Lacking much support were Douglas Aircraft, Great Northern, du Pont, Union Carbide, Sperry and American Telephone.

Cows Climb Trees As Upstate Drouth Ruins Grass Area

Watertown, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP)—A St. Lawrence county dairyman told federal and state marketing authorities today that drouth in his region had been so serious this year his cows were "even climbing trees to eat leaves."

Testifying at a hearing on revision of the federal-state marketing order for the New York City milk shed, James B. Thompson, Gouverneur dairyman, exclaimed: "In all my life—50 years—I've never known a cow to eat sweet flag (a swamp plant). Yet this year my cows chewed a quarter acre of it down to the dirt."

"And I saw one of my cows stand on its hind legs, rest its fore feet in the crotch of a willow and eat the leaves."

Thompson said farmers in St. Lawrence, Jefferson and Lewis counties had to feed cattle as much grain this summer as was ordinarily fed in mid-winter.

"I couldn't afford to feed them hay," he said, "when I harvested only 35 tons where I ordinarily harvest 110."

Thompson, a member of the Dairy Farmers Union, urged revision of the marketing order to empower its administrator to adjust prices without lengthy hearings.

Today's hearings marked resumption of sessions begun last week-end in New York.

Senate Is Given Big Tax Measure After House 'O.K.'

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—The huge $3,206,200,000 defense tax bill, which would give the government its biggest cut of the national income, went to the Senate today bearing a trouncing House approval, but almost immediately there was talk that it might yet undergo major revisions.

It passed the House by the lopsided vote of 369 to 30 late yesterday after it had first been stripped of a provision for requiring all married persons to file joint income tax returns. This provision had been counted on to raise about $323,000,000 in additional revenue by compelling many married persons to pay higher surtaxes.

The defeat of the joint return clause—by a 242 to 160 vote—was attributed to a great extent to the criticism voiced by President Roosevelt who wanted it modified to exempt the income actually earned by either husbands or wives.

Joined by Others

Members of the ways and means committee, who balked at recommending the President's proposal, were joined by other legislators in opposing the further increases in individual income taxes which would be necessary to make up the lost revenue.

At the other end of the capitol, Chairman George (D., Ga.) of the Senate finance committee, expressed belief the Senate would not seek to reinstate the controversial provision but would try to make up the deficiency elsewhere, possibly by revision of the income tax brackets to broaden the base.

He said his committee would hear an explanation of the bill by treasury experts tomorrow and begin a two-weeks public hearing on Friday.

George expressed doubt that the Senate would make any change in the fundamentals of the excess profits tax plan approved by the House.

The base-broadening mentioned by George would be in line with President Roosevelt's views, for the Chief Executive told the ways and means committee he thought the exemptions for single persons should be reduced from $800 to $750 and those for married persons from $2,000 to $1,500. Mr. Roosevelt asserted that persons in those income groups were eager to "chip in directly" to help the defense program.

Triple for Others

As it passed the House yesterday, the bill would virtually triple the taxes of persons in the lower and middle income groups by levying a graduated system of surtaxes starting at five per cent on the first dollar of taxable income and ranging up to 75 per cent (the present maximum) on incomes of $5,000,000 and over.

These surtaxes would be in addition to the present normal income tax rate on four per cent, which was continued. But even at that, a married man earning $2,500 and having no dependents would pay $38.50 under the new plan compared with his present tax of $11.

The new yield from individual income taxes was expected to be in the neighborhood of $829,000,000.

Approximately $1,322,900,000 would be raised from corporations through surtaxes, stiffer excess profits taxes and a drastically revised method of computing them.

Surtaxes would start at five per cent on income up to $25,000, rise to six per cent on any amount in excess of that. Excess profits tax rates which now range from 25 to 50 per cent would be boosted to run from 35 to 60 per cent.

Dodgers Raft Giants, 11-6; Club Has Opportunity To Fatten on Weak Teams

Meet Giants, Braves and Phils Until August 18; Cardinals Win, Lose Infielder Crespi

(By The Associated Press)

The brash Brooklyn Dodgers are back home, hoping to fatten their pennant appetite on helpless eastern brethren, and everything is in their favor.

After floundering around the west for several days they managed to return with a four-game winning streak and last night they promptly made it five by overpowering the staggering New York Giants, 11 to 6.

From now until the western clubs start their final circuit of the east August 18 the Dodgers' opposition will be the Giants, whom they have beaten seven out of 11; the Boston Braves, who have been their victims nine out of 11; and the last-place Phillies, whom they have whipped in 11 out of 12.

Team in Stride

The Dodgers are back in stride. Both Whitlow Wyatt and Kirby Higbe have become winning pitchers again. Dolph Camilli has regained his batting eye, hitting over .400 since his visit to a hospital. And the whole club has regained the nerve which characterized it at the start of the season.

Last night Brooklyn had to battle to win, after Babe Young put the Giants in front, 2 to 0, with a double and a homer in the first four frames.

Manager Leo Durocher put in Dixie Walker as a pinch hitter in the fifth and he doubled for a run. In the sixth he doubled with the bases loaded in a four-run flurry.

When Ken O'Dea's pinch-homer with the bases loaded in the seventh tied the score, the Dodgers danced right back with a five-run encore.

Meanwhile the St. Louis Cardinals face a sterner task. They have to subdue the Pittsburgh Pirates,

Guldahl Isn't Discouraged —But He's Plenty Puzzled

By EARL HILLIGAN
(P) Feature Service

Chicago—Three years ago a double winner of the coveted National Open championship and bigtime golf's hottest star, big Ralph Guldahl today is the most bewildered man in the game—by his own admission.

Once the most feared "stretch" competitor on the tournament circuit, the big round-shouldered westerner hasn't been able to get going this year in oldtime style. He isn't glum—just perplexed.

"I just don't feel right standing up to the ball—that's the whole thing," he says.

"I can't seem to get comfortable at the address and don't have that old relaxed feeling. I can't line the hole up as I used to, either. I've done plenty of experimenting, but I don't think I've done too much. I really should take a month off and do nothing but practice."

"Any good golfer knows instinctively when his feel isn't right—and mine isn't. My swing definitely is out of the groove and I've noticed a tendency to play too much to the left. When I do liberally play to the right, I only get into more trouble. Why I've even played one shot off my left foot, then changed and played the next off my right—and watched both shots go wild."

"My putting hasn't degenerated proportionally. It's my tee to green game that has gone sour. I know that swinging too fast has caused me to slice, and I'm working on that now. I've simply got to slow my swing down. It's jerky. Other players have told me about it."

"I'm not discouraged completely. I've played good golf before and am sure I'll be up there again."

Fellow pros aren't agreed on what is wrong with Guldahl's game. Many of them, though, think it's more mental than mechanical, that he has worried so about his failure to start clicking that he has lost the ability to concentrate.

Guldahl's contention that he has played good golf before is an understatement. Winner of the National Open crown in 1937 and 1938, he also won the Western Open—a tough event—in 1936, 1937 and 1938. Many veteran observers say that the Guldahl who won the 1937 National Open at Oakland Hills, Birmingham, Mich., was one of the coolest, most iron-nerved competitors in golf history.

He won the Milwaukee Open's first money of $1,200 last August and shortly afterward went to the semi-finals of the 1940 PGA tournament where Byron Nelson beat him, one up. Even though he had occasional low rounds after that PGA event, Guldahl dates his decline from that tournament.

This season he hasn't won a single championship and has been in the money so frequently that his tourney winnings through July 20, didn't exceed $1,500—a far cry from the approximately $30,000 in purses he picked up in 1937 and 1938. This summer he could do no better than a tie for 21st place in the National Open.

In the 1941 PGA championship at Denver, Guldahl was eliminated in the third round by Nelson again. In the Chicago open he finished far out of the money, placing 29th with a 296 total which included a 77—all right for duffers but "simply terrible" for Ralph. He did show an improvement in the St. Paul open, finishing one stroke behind the winner.

His heavy tournament schedule doesn't give Ralph much time for steady practice but he says that if determination will do it he'll be back in there with 68's and 69's before long.

Lois Parry Captures Two Firsts in Liberty Races

Williams Lake Swimmer Is Outscored for Honors by Rita Weaver of Troy Swim Club

Lois Parry of High Falls, Williams Lake Athletic Club aquatic star, established herself as one of the top ranking woman swimmers of the east Sunday by placing high in a U.S.O. benefit swimming meet held at Swan Lake in Liberty. Although Lois Parry took two first places in the five event pentathlon program, she was outscored by the versatile Rita Weaver of Troy for first place honors.

"Miss Parry won in the 100-yard breaststroke and in the 220 yard freestyle events and was the only double winner of the day. Mary Cunningham, star of the St. George Dragon Club of Brooklyn, was third in point score."

In the men's pentathlon, Francis Powers of Harvard University, won while second place went to Tom Finnerty of the New York Athletic Club.

Miss Parry's first victory came in the 100 yard breaststroke event in which she battled stroke for stroke with the most recent stake victor, Rita Weaver before gradually pulling ahead and winning by about a yard in the fine time of 1 minute and 30 seconds.

The real thrill of the program came in the 220 yard freestyle event in which Rita Weaver took the lead over Betty Beaton of Trenton, N. J., and Lois Parry of Williams Lake. Miss Parry trailed Rita Weaver by 20 feet at the 150 yard turn but put on a finishing spring which the Troy mermaid could not match. Miss Parry won by a touch in the final time of 3 minutes 2 seconds.

Next week the Williams Lake Swimming Club will travel to Utica with their coach, Fred Dippel, for the Adirondack Association of the A.A.U. championships.

The summaries of Sunday's races at Swan Lake are as follows:

100 yard breaststroke for men: 1—John Sorman, New York A. C.; 2—Harold Spence, New York A. C.; 3—Harold Leicht, New York A. C. Time: 1 minute 6.9 seconds.

100 yard breaststroke for women: 1—Lois Parry, Williams Lake A. C.; 2—Rita Weaver, Prospect Park Club, Troy; 3—Mary Cunningham, Dragon Club, Time: 1 minute 30 seconds.

100 yard backstroke for men: 1—Tom Finnerty, New York A. C.; 2—John Gibson, New York A. C.; 3—Francis Powers, Harvard University. Time: 1 minute 6.9 seconds.

100 yard backstroke for women: 1—Mary Cunningham, Dragon Club; 2—Rita Weaver, Prospect Park Club, Troy; 3—Lois Parry, Williams Lake A. C. Time: 1 minute 21.6 seconds.

100 yard freestyle for men: 1—Bud Fisher, New York A. C.; 2—Francis Powers, Harvard University; 3—Walter Kruger, New York A. C. Time: 59.2 seconds.

100 yard freestyle for women: 1—Rita Weaver, Prospect Park Club, Troy; 2—Betty Lynch, unattached, Trenton, N. J.; 3—Lois Parry, Williams Lake A. C. Time: 1 minute 7.2 seconds.

120 yard medley for men: 1—Betty Fisher, New York A. C.; 2—John Cousins, New York A. C.; 3—Walter Kruger, New York A. C. Time: 2 minutes 30 seconds.

220 yard freestyle for women: 1—Lois Parry, Williams Lake A. C.; 2—Rita Weaver, Prospect Park Club, Troy; 3—Betty Beaton, Newark W.S.A. Time: 3 minutes and 2 seconds.

RALPH GULDAHL
"Can't seem to get comfortable"

With the close of the Men's Federation League nearing, the Clinton Avenue club still leads the pack with 17 wins and two losses for a high average of .894. Port Ewen trails in second by a record of 14 and 4. Clinton Avenue has a lead of two and one-half games.

The first four teams, besides Clinton Avenue and Port Ewen, are Presbyterians in third and St. James in fourth. Two other clubs are above the .500 mark, Trinity Lutheran with .647 and the Baptists with .588.

Following are the results of last week: Ulster Park defeated Port Ewen Monday; the losing club protested the results. A meeting, called by the president, will decide the protest. However, the result will stand until the decision is made.

Other games: Clinton Avenue took two games, one by forfeit from Fair Street and by wallowing Ulster Park, 12-1. Port Ewen was washed out of one game, the second is the protested one with Ulster Park. The Redeemer-Hurley game is unreported.

Games for this week: Tonight, Port Ewen and Presbyterians at No. 1; Clinton Avenue and Lutherans at No. 2; Wednesday, Port Ewen and Trinity Lutheran at No. 1; Redeemers and Ulster Park at No. 2; Thursday, Port Ewen and Congregationals at No. 2; Baptists and Ulster Park at Loughran; Friday, Redeemers and Baptist at No. 1.

Hambletonian Is Set for Wednesday; Perpetual Is Sick

Doc Parshall's Colt Has Fever Running at 103; Bill Gallon Next in Line as Favorite

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 5 (P)—This little village in the hills was getting all dressed up today for its annual big day, but the holiday spirit spreading through the neighborhood passed right on by Doc Parshall's barn at Good Time Park.

Doc's rosy hopes of winning his third Hambletonian stake tomorrow, and becoming the first owned-trainer-driver to turn the trick in the corn tassel derby, were sick with a high fever.

These hopes are all wrapped up in a three-year-old tagged Perpetual, who looked like a mighty good thing for the $45,000 jackpot off his three recent stake victories, the latest only last Saturday at Historic Track. But Doc walked into Perpetual's stall last evening and found the colt ailing so badly with a temperature of 103 that he was just about sure his standard-bearer wouldn't be in first-rate condition before tomorrow's big heat, much less in time for the filling of entries today.

With the hopes of the Ohio ace on the point of disappearing, hundreds centered around Bill Gallon, the brown colt owned by R. H. Johnston of Charlotte, N. C., and the choice of many as far back as last fall. Although Bill Gallon has been no ball of fire in his races this year, there were still many who figured he'd be sharp for his 16th Hambletonian and ready to take any of the other eight or nine expected entries.

If Perpetual isn't ready to go, Bill's biggest threats probably will come either from His Excellency, owned by William Strang of Brooklyn, or Fast Train, from the stable of E. T. Gerry, the New York harness racing commissioner.

Methods and planes developed in the United States are used to train military pilots in Honduras, the Department of Commerce reports.

Ox Cart Serves as Night Vehicle for Girl Friend

Penacook, N. H., Aug. 5 (AP)—The horse and buggy days have been revived in several communities as a result of gasoline sales restrictions at night but this community has returned to the period of the ox cart.

Last evening David Morrill took his girl friend for a ride. When he called on Miss Joan Stuart he helped her onto an ox cart. The tail light was a red lantern and Morrill blew an old horn to acknowledge greetings of passing automobiles.

City Delegates Select Incumbents At G. O. P. Meeting

honest, humane and economical government. I have kept that pledge! Today, Kingston is one of the best and most efficiently governed cities in the country. During our administration, Kingston has become a cleaner, healthier, safer, better, happier place in which to live. A great many public improvements have been made and many municipal services and conveniences have been expanded and improved, and yet the tax rate is lower now than it was when I first became mayor. The reason is not far to see. Waste and extravagance has been eliminated. Today, the city gets a full dollar's worth for every dollar expended. The money of the taxpayer has not been squandered building up a police machine but has been spent for the benefit of the people. The government of Kingston has been conducted without prejudice or favoritism, with fairness and impartiality to all.

It is my political philosophy that a political party must be an instrument of public service if it is to win and keep public confidence. The best political policy to pursue, with Democracy on trial all over the world, is to give the people clean, honest, good government.

I have been elected by the voters of Kingston because they know my philosophy of government and approve my policies. The voters of Kingston know that I have no other business or no other interests except the business and the best interests of the City of Kingston. They know I have no other axes to grind. They know I consider myself the servant of the people; that I devote all my time to the business of the city; and that I am working constantly in their interests and for their benefit and welfare.

At this point, I wish to pay my tribute to one who was long my steadfast friend and kindly mentor, that grand old man of Ulster, the late Philip Elting. Some mayors of some cities, as anxious and as capable as I am to do a good job, have been handicapped by political influences and pressures not consistent with sound government. Let me say for the record that Philip Elting was not that kind of a political leader. He was an advocate of good government and of economy in government and his sympathetic support and encouragement of my political ideals and policies many of which he shared along the rough road ahead. In the future conduct of my office it shall be my constant aim and ambition to so conduct myself as to be forever worthy of his confidence and respect and approval.

'I Stood at the Bridge'

I appreciate very much the expression of your continued confidence, evidenced by your action here tonight. I accept your renomination with a deep and solemn sense of responsibility because of the grave problems which face us and our beloved country. Who knows what problems, ordeals and sacrifices we in Kingston might be called upon to make before another local election is held in this Old Colonial city? If an extreme emergency comes, the citizens of Kingston, as always, will meet it with courage and patriotism. Your city government too, is ready with leadership, personnel, morale and equipment to meet the emergency if it comes. We have proved that we know how to handle emergencies by the manner in which we solved the problems which came with the depression, with its mass unemployment, its shrinking real estate values and its financial dangers. The good people of Kingston elected me their captain, and during the troublesome days of the past I stood at the bridge of the good ship Kingston, in fair and in stormy weather, and with the help of loyal and faithful officials, officers and employees of the city government and with the support and cooperation of the people of Kingston, safely piloted it through perilous waters into the sunlit harbor of 1941, with ship undamaged and all hands safe and sound.

If the voters of Kingston on next election day decide to sign up the same tried and experienced captain for another voyage through the rough seas of 1942 and 1943, he will be ready to report for duty next January 1st to raise his right hand and swear to God and man that he will, to the best of his ability, perform the duties of his office with the same humanity, vigor, fidelity and faithfulness in the future as he has in the past.

During the coming weeks, I shall make to the citizens of Kingston an accounting of our stewardship during the past two years.

I urge all friends of good government who, regardless of political affiliation, have heretofore supported me at the polls, to take an active part in the coming campaign. I urge all citizens to analyze the facts and figures, consult the record and learn the truth. After learning the true facts, if they wish me to continue to serve the city for the next two years, I shall appreciate their support.

Schwenk Nominated

For Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk, incumbent, was nominated by Attorney Louis G. Bruhn to succeed himself. Mr. Bruhn said that Mayor Heiselman and Alderman-at-large Schwenk were a winning combination. Alderman Paul A. Zucca seconded Mr. Schwenk's nomination, saying that he was known by "every kid and voter in the city," and was liked by all of them; that as a presiding officer over the deliberations of the common council he was fair and impartial and that "there is no better presiding officer anywhere."

Escorted to the platform by Alderman James E. Connelly of the Ninth Ward and George J. Jankowski of the Fourth Ward, Mr. Schwenk thanked the delegates for the confidence again placed in him. He said that he felt it was a high privilege to work with Mayor Heiselman and promised if elected to fulfill the duties of his office honestly, efficiently and without fear or prejudice.

On the call for nominations for city judge, Attorney Dorr E. Monroe was recognized, and placed in nomination Judge Matthew V. Cahill to succeed himself. He spoke briefly of the record Judge Cahill had made on the bench, emphasizing especially the good judgment and good common sense that he had shown. Attorney Vincent G. Connelly, in seconding Judge Cahill's nomination reviewed briefly some of the functions of the judiciary in a democracy and quoted Chief Justice John Jay who, speaking on the site of the present court house in 1777 referred to the duty of a judge to "defend the innocent as well as to punish the oppressor." He approved of the work of Judge Cahill in a court where the administering of strict justice was difficult and found that he met the four-fold test of Socrates in that he was fair, impartial, experienced and fearless.

The secretary cast the ballot of the convention for Judge Cahill, who was escorted to the platform by Bernhardt Kramer of the 12th Ward and Mrs. Mabel Diehl of the Sixth Ward.

"I feel profoundly grateful for this renomination and accept it as a signal honor," said Judge Cahill, adding that he would like to feel that it meant that the seal of approval had been placed upon his work on the bench. He said that he had tried to follow the advice given him by Mr. Elting following the last election—to be honest, humane, to use common sense and to "be the judge." "I have honestly and sincerely deliberated and decided the questions involved in thousands of cases that have come before me in court and in chambers," said Judge Cahill. He urged the members of the convention to work together for the good of the party and its candidates and said that "I intend to go out and work just as hard under the leadership of Roscoe Elsworth as I did under Philip Elting."

Howard C. Anderson, Republican nominee for sheriff and Jesse McHugh, nominated to succeed himself as coroner, were introduced and spoke briefly. Mr. McHugh said that last year, in the course of his work as coroner, he conducted 80 investigations.

Elsworth Speaks

There was a call for Roscoe V. Elsworth, who was present at the convention. Mr. Elsworth said that he had asked Chairman Sterley not to call upon him, adding that recognition of himself as chairman of the county Republican committee was rather premature, as it would be some time before these nominated as members of the committee throughout the county were endorsed by the voters and action naming a chairman could be taken. He said he felt humble, as he contemplated the possibility that he might be called upon to assume the leadership of the party in the county. If it does come to pass that I am chosen, he said, I can only make a success through what each and every one of you does. Mr. Elsworth said the convention that, through long association with Mr. Elting, he was familiar with the sacrifice of time, effort and work demanded of one who accepted the position of chairman of the county party.

Before adjournment Chairman Sterley called attention to the fact that central registration would continue through August at the Board of Elections office, as a convenience to any citizen who might be absent on the four regular registration days. He also suggested that any who might have to be absent on election day make arrangements to secure absentee ballots. Mr. Sterley said that through an act passed by the last legislature an opportunity would be given to all in the military service to register at the camps in which they may be located.

splitting the order," he said he wanted all or nothing."

Explains to Deyo

She said she explained this to Deyo and then proceeded to make arrangements for the family, but she insisted that no member of the board had any part in the arrangements she made.

"You've brought charges against me and now you've got to prove them," Mrs. O'Connor charged the board.

"Yes, it's up to you to prove them," said Mr. McEvoy. Members of the board held that such proof at the time was not necessary, whereupon Mrs. O'Connor again suggested some action by the board against Mr. Trandle.

Town Machinery Rendered In a report of the assistant examiner of highway accounts for the state auditing department made a year ago covering a period of from January 1, 1939 to May 20, 1940, it was stated in effect that attention was called to the rental of town equipment by Town Superintendent Trandle, by the present supervisor. Certain information was placed before the district attorney to the effect that these rentals were not turned in to town funds.

The report continued to explain:

"Let's go! U.S.A. Flying!"

Democrats Hold County Convention

The Democratic County Convention was held at the municipal auditorium last evening. In the above group are, left to right, Theron Lasher of Woodstock, nominated for sheriff; Bernard A. Culliton, convention chairman; Mrs. Herman I. DuBois, county vice-chairman; and Fred Coulter of New Paltz, nominated for the office of coroner. Mrs. Mary O'Connor of Rosendale, who was nominated for the office of county commissioner of public welfare, was not present at the convention.

"Your examiner complied with the district attorney as to what information he had as to these rentals," and a list of names were given and certain specific charges made.

Then the report explained that "as this matter is now in the district attorney's hands and your examiner has investigated same for the district attorney, the same may be considered closed until further assistance is requested." This report was signed by William A. Maloney, assistant examiner of highway accounts.

Report Given in May

In another report filed with the Rosendale Town Board, May 12, 1941, the following was stated:

"It was noted on examination of 1939 accounts that the town superintendent received several sums of money for work done by the town-owned equipment. This money due for the rental of this town equipment during the year of 1939 has not been turned over to the supervisor as yet. The town board should serve notice on the town superintendent that he either turn over this money or the bonding company will be notified and action taken to recover."

It was on the basis of these charges that Mrs. O'Connor asked members of the town board to take action against Mr. Trandle. The board held, however, that since the origin of these charges was not concurrent with their term in office, that they were not obliged to take action.

At one point in the argument Supervisor Mooney pointed out: "It is the duty of the town board to take up charges against the town superintendent and I asked this board on the 27th of June to take them up."

Motion Is Made

The motion to remove Mrs. O'Connor from office came from Mr. Aldridge. There was some pause before it was seconded and this was done by Edward Brodsky.

Mr. Aldridge, Mr. Brodsky and Charles Zaengle voted to oust Mrs. O'Connor while Supervisor Mooney and Mr. McEvoy voted in her favor.

Supervisor Mooney called a special meeting for August 13 at 8 p. m., at which time the business of the evening will be the naming of a successor to Mrs. O'Connor.

Members of the board also agreed that they should hear from Morris DeWitt to get his story as to what arrangements were made between himself and Mrs. O'Connor.

Asks Road Action

At the outset of the meeting A. A. Klein of the LeFevre Falls road petitioned the board for some immediate action toward repairing the road. Town Highway Superintendent Trandle pointed out that it was not a town road and that under the latest regulations in order to make it one, enough property would have to be deeded over to make it three rods wide and that such measurement would have to be made from an established center line.

Supervisor Mooney advised Mr. Klein to take up the proposal immediately with the highway superintendent to establish proper procedure in making it a town road. Mr. Klein indicated that the residents along the road were mainly interested in having it repaired and they would not necessarily need a road three rods wide. It was again stressed, however, that such a procedure is now necessary, and Mr. Mooney again suggested the residents of the road begin proceedings with Mr. Trandle. Other residents of the LeFevre Falls region also asked for repair of the road.

Williams Asks Speedup

Walter Williams of Williams Lake also sought to gain some impetus from the board in getting some immediate action on an issue between the township and the Williams Lake interests now pending in supreme court. The action is to determine whether the road leading into Williams Lake is privately owned or whether it can be added to the town highway system for improvement.

Mr. Williams said that it was his understanding that the township and himself were virtually working together to get the matter settled, but the way it is now going the legal delays are "costing us money and costing the town money in counsel fees."

"We would like to get this thing settled when court convenes in September," said Mr. Williams. "and I wonder if the town board is willing to give instructions to Attorney Lloyd LeFevre that he be ready to go ahead with the case in September."

Supervisor Mooney pointed out that papers which were technically wrong were served at the outset of the case, but Mr. Williams reminded the board that Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick

Democratic voters of your districts and it is up to you to recommend desirable candidates.

"Although there may not be as much fiery action as in a national election, do not consider this an off year because there should be plenty of interest in the election of county and city officials."

"Ulster is one of the few remaining counties in New York state that holds an unofficial political convention for the choice of party candidates, and your presence here is very important. Do not let your enthusiasm wane, however, after this meeting, but let this be the beginning of the 1941 campaign."

Lasher Nominated When Judge Culliton said nominations were in order for the office of sheriff, Ross K. Osterhoudt, former supervisor for the town of Marlborough, took the floor and named Theron Lasher of Woodstock, Robert Browning, also of Woodstock, seconded the nomination of Mr. Lasher and the unanimous ballot was cast for him by the secretary of the convention.

In nominating Mr. Lasher, Mr. Osterhoudt criticized the Republican organization for not having renominated Abram F. Molyneux for sheriff, saying "we have a responsibility to the people of this county in naming a fit candidate at this time, (he referred to the national emergency), and Theron Lasher is capable with his experience as a veteran, former office holder and businessman."

Mr. Browning spoke of his "neighbor" as a man of forceful character, with a sense of public duty that would fit him for the office of sheriff.

After having been escorted to the stage by David Stewart and Mortimer Block of Accord, Mr. Lasher said "this is a great honor you have bestowed upon me. I shall conduct a clear campaign, and promise that I shall run the office of sheriff in a creditable manner if elected."

Mrs. O'Connor Named

Attorney John DeWitt, former candidate for district attorney, when recognized by the chair, took the occasion to spur his fellow Democrats into action by saying "this is the year we can get 'em." I mean the remnants of the Republican party in Ulster county—and we can do this by selecting the proper candidates.

"We have picked a good one for sheriff and for the position of welfare officer we need an individual of ability and sympathetic understanding." He named Mrs. Mary O'Connor of Rosendale, whose nomination was seconded by Mrs. John Duffy of the same town.

Mrs. O'Connor was not present at the convention because it was necessary for her to attend a town board meeting. Judge Culliton, commenting upon her nomination, said he was exceedingly pleased and hoped that she would arrive in time so that he would have the privilege of presenting her to the convention.

Coulter for Coroner

Jay Zimmerman of the Town of New Paltz was very brief in nominating Fred Coulter of the same town for the office of coroner. Louis D. LeFevre, also of New Paltz, seconded the nomination of Mr. Coulter.

All of the nominations were unanimous.

In conclusion Mrs. Herman I. DuBois, vice chairman of the Democratic county committee, addressed the ladies urging them to take part in the campaign, and Theron Lasher, former supervisor from the town of Denning, offered a resolution calling for the convention to extend its well wishes to Joseph J. McGrath, who is ill at his home in Phoenixia.

The other resolutions offered were as follows:

George J. Mutari, of the town of Saugerties, a resolution of commendation to President Franklin D. Roosevelt for the way he has faced "a greater responsibility and heavier burden than any other president of the United States and for the way he retains the confidence of his people."

Andrew T. Gilday of the Third Ward, city of Kingston, moved that the compliments of the convention be sent to Robert F. Wagner and James M. Mead, members of the United States Senate from New York for their "support of the national administration's vast program for national defense and for their positions in the forefront of enactment of national laws to strengthen national democracy."

Albert V. Roberts of the town of Lloyd, a resolution of commendation to Governor Herbert H. Lehman for his "progressive leadership through the depression and these perilous times of war."

William C. DeWitt, resolution of extending the sympathy to the families of prominent Democrats whose loss by death the party suffered since the last annual convention.
